New personal concierge service aims to assist in all situations
March, 2011

Sometimes you just need a helping hand. No matter how well travelled you are, there are moments on the road when you'd gladly turn to someone else for assistance or know-how, and that's where Genius365 steps in. Genius365 is a personal concierge service that's available 24 hours a day and seven days a week, and which offers travellers in any time zone and country, "who don't want to leave the success or enjoyment of their trip to chance", a full range of concierge and travel assistance services.

Created by Paris-based Airsavings, the service can help in all sorts of situations – whether you need to find a chemist in Phuket at 2am, require help in securing tickets for a sporting event or concert, or need the location of a coveted store in Milan. Genius365 can also offer recommendations for the best local treats and eats in Hong Kong, and can handle all the logistics with taxis and ground transportation, flights, hotel and restaurant reservations, schedule coordination, as well as help with local language services.

Of course, all this doesn't come free, but the rates are surprisingly affordable, starting at just 60p per day. Visit www.genius365.com to register your details and select a concierge package that best suits your needs and length of trip.
